Trio of new leases signed for Freehold industrial park

Sheldon Gross Realty manages multiple deals, totaling nearly 15K square feet

FREEHOLD, NJ (January 7, 2020) — Three new leases have been signed recently for space within the 165,000-square-foot Fairfield Industrial Park at 920-922 Route 33 in Freehold. Each of these transactions was managed by Sheldon Gross Realty Senior Vice President Glenn Jaffe, along with Executive Vice President Jonathan Glick and Sales Representative Matthew Leonelli.

Of the three, newly leased spaces, the Bury the Hatchet ax-throwing range is the largest, at 6,000 square feet. This location was previously devoted to office space. The consulting firm Abbingtion Engineering leased 5,484 square feet, while Garcia Sequeira LLC leased 3,209 square feet.

“These three leases further solidify Fairfield Corporate Park’s reputation as a prime location,” Jaffe says. “Our agency serves as the park’s exclusive marketing agent, so I can say quite definitively that space there is in very high demand.”

To date, Sheldon Gross Realty has arranged for a total of 13 leases at the Freehold location. Both National Parts Supply and Shore Ninja Academy leased space earlier in 2019.

Conveniently located in central Monmouth County, along Freehold’s border with Howell, Fairfield Industrial Park is only 10 minutes from Route 9 and Route 18, and just a short drive from the New Jersey Turnpike and Route 34.
